REMARKS.

ADMISSION.

Applicants for admission to the University should not be under fifteen years of age. None under that age will be admitted, except by a special arrangement with the Faculty.

Satisfactory testimonials of good moral character must be given when required; and a student coming from another college will be required to present a certificate of honorable dismission.

LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

Ladies from abroad will room in Saum Hall, which is under the immediate supervision of the principal of the Ladies' Department; except in special cases of those who have friends residing in town, or those who desire the privilege of defraying part of their expenses by domestic labor.

Ladies desiring admission to the Ladies' Hall should have previous correspondence with the principal of the department, stating their age, acquirements, and length of time they propose to remain.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

Prayers, with the reading of scripture, are held in the chapel at 8:45 A. M., each day of the week, except Sabbath. All students are required to attend.

Religious services are held in the chapel on Sabbath morning, which all students are required to attend, except those who, on account of church membership, or wish of parent or guardian, prefer to attend church elsewhere.

Students' prayer-meetings, which all are invited to attend, are held every Tuesday evening, in the University halls.

EXAMINATIONS.

Public examinations of all the classes are held at the close of each term in the studies of the term.

These examinations are considered important, and the examiners will consider them criteria of the students' attainments.

Students who, for any reason, are absent from an examination, will be required to pass a full and satisfactory examination before they re-enter the class.

SPECIAL STUDIES.

Instruction is given, at the expense of the student, in the modern languages, instrumental and vocal music, drawing, and oil painting.

GOVERNMENT.

Daily and weekly accounts of the attainments and delinquencies of each student are kept, furnishing a complete record of his habits, in respect to scholarship, obedience to rules, and general punctuality.

This record is publicly read at the close of each term, and is preserved in the archives of the institution. A copy is transmitted to the parent or guardian when requested.

LIBRARY.

The library contains a choice collection of standard works in the most important branches of literature. Additions are frequently made.

APPARATUS.

A liberal appropriation was made by the Board of Trustees at their last annual meeting for the purchase of apparatus and other means of illustration, for the department of natural sciences.

From this appropriation additions have recently been made to our physical apparatus of some of the best modern instruments for illustrating laws of sound, electricity, light, etc. The laboratory has also been supplied with working-tools. Other instruments have been ordered, so that the department in the future will have command of full means of illustrating class and other lectures in natural philosophy.

The course of study in chemistry will be illustrated by experimental lectures with the best apparatus.

Additions will soon be made to our cabinet of specimens of foreign minerals, rocks, and fossils. These, together with those already in possession, will illustrate quite fully the studies of mineralogy and geology.

The friends of the University are earnestly requested to aid in accumulating a cabinet of rocks and fossils by contributing such interesting specimens as may be found near their homes. Those desiring advice concerning such contributions may communicate with the professor of the natural sciences.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are connected with the university four literary societies—the Philomathean and Philophronean, belonging to the gentlemen; Philathean and Cleiorhetean, belonging to the ladies. These societies occupy commodious halls in the new university building.

MISCELLANY.

Students will be under the direction of the faculty in engaging rooms and boarding.

Some young men rent rooms, and board in clubs, at a moderate cost, and many defray part of their expenses by manual labor.

Students, before joining their classes, must be provided with cards from the president or principal, countersigned by the secretary, showing that they have settled their term bills.

The proper text-books are furnished in Westerville.

FREE TUITION.

Children of superannuated and itinerant ministers of the United Brethren Church are received free of charge as to tuition.

SITUATION.

Westerville, the seat of Otterbein University, is situated on the Cleveland, Mt. Vernon & Columbus Railroad, twelve miles from Columbus. There is also connection with Westerville Station, three miles west of the University, on the Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati & Indianapolis Railroad.
